WHO GOD MADE You To Be

LIKE-COMMENT-SUBSCRIBE

Happy Fall Y'all! There has been a lot happening in Big City Avenue already this fall. We've welcomed some new faces to our program who graduated from One Way Street pre-school into Big City Avenue.

In September, we launched a timely new 8-week series titled "Who God Made You To Be". Everywhere we turn, the world is delivering some pretty strong messages about who we should be, what we should do, and how we should act. But God made us to be very different from what the world says. We are made in His image. We are thoughtfully planned out and called to love and serve Him. In this series, the children will learn that they are His precious children created on purpose, for a purpose; custom designed and wonderfully made. We pray each child will know how extremely loved they are by their Heavenly Father and know their true identity in Christ.

STAFF SHOUTOUTS:

William, Ire and Mark

We have been happy to have these three dedicated young men serving in Big City Avenue for the past couple of years. You probably see them often behind the counter when you exit through the Big City Store. What you may not see is the important work they do behind the cameras so that we can livestream a quality service each week on Facebook and Youtube. They also assist the teachers in the small group rooms.

William likes to work out at the gym and plays basketball and volleyball during the week. Drawing is something he enjoys in his spare time. He also has many tech related interests as well.

Ire stays active by playing club basketball each week. He also enjoys coding and is an avid reader.

Mark enjoys drawing and also stays fit by playing club basketball throughout the year.

All three of these former BCA attendees have grown up at CT, and are now valued leaders in the program.
